

AFFAIRS IN ALEXANDRIA

MEETING OF NEW COUNCIL TO BE HELD JULY 9.

Appointments of Committees and Election of Minor Offices to Occur

Then-General Matters.

Evening Star Bureau.
No. 701 King St.
Bell Telephone No. 103.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., July 3, 1901.

The first regular meeting of the new city council will be held Tuesday evening, July 9. Committees will then be appointed and minor city officers elected. In the board of aldermen the election of a presiding officer, clerk and messenger has been carried over. It is expected that there will be a long and hard-fought battle for the first-named position. No one seems able to predict what the result will be. It is understood that Messrs. J. E. Sweeney, J. R. N. Curtin, W. H. Sweeney and N. P. T. Burke are voting together and that J. M. Hill, T. L. Clarke, T. Ballenger and F. T. Marbury are holding together on the other side. With the election of a president in the upper body, the presidents of the two boards will announce the members of the standing committee. The boards will then go into joint session for the election of various minor city officers.

Police Court Cases.
Mayor Simpson disposed of the following cases in the police court this morning: Alice Jones, colored, charged with stealing clothes from William Mills, was assessed $10. The clothes were recovered from a party to whom the Jones woman had sold them for $2.

Benjamin Waters, sr., charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $5. For assaulting Rebecca Branson, Richard Williams, colored, was required to pay $5. Hugh Harris was before the court on suspicion of breaking and entering Frank Adam's store. The case was dismissed.

Program for the Fourth.
Several colored people of this city have prepared an elaborate program for the observance of July 4 at the John Hay Normal and Industrial School grounds, at the corner of Montgomery and Patrick streets. Magnus L. Robinson is chairman of the committee on arrangements. Several well-known colored speakers from distant points are expected to be present and deliver addresses. Fireworks in the evening will conclude the program.

Damaged by Storm.
Considerable damage to trees and telegraph poles was done in the violent thunder storm here yesterday afternoon. Lightning burned out several telephones and struck the electrical apparatus used at the post office for stamping mail. The First Baptist Church on South Washington street was struck and the roof slightly damaged. Lightning also struck the flag staff of the Concordia Hotel, but did not materially damage the building. During the storm the temperature fell sixteen degrees in this city.

United States Court Cases.
The summer term of the United States court for the eastern district of Virginia closed here yesterday afternoon after disposing of a few minor cases. The case of R. H. Phillips, indicted for interfering with a government telephone and telegraph line near Arlington, Alexandria county, was dismissed. The case had been on the docket for more than a year.

In the case of Leach against the Fidelity Building and Loan Association, an order was entered for the distribution of funds in the hands of receiver.

Charter Granted.
Judge J. K. M. Norton, in the corporation court, granted a charter to the National Roller and Ball Bearing Company, the object of which is to buy, own and control the inventions of W. J. Brewer for anti-friction devices. The sum of $200,000 was named as the capital stock. The following are the officers: Charles E. Wood, president; William S. Hoxworth, vice president and treasurer; William E. Leary, secretary and general manager; and William John Brewer, mechanic and contracting engineer, all of Washington. James R. Caton is Alexandria agent.

General and Personal.
In the United States court for this district John Riley, indicted for selling liquor without a license, has been sentenced to serve thirty days in the city jail and to pay a fine of $100. C. M. White of Warrenton and F. L. Cox of Prince William county were admitted to practice before the court.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Michael Riley, who died in Washington Friday were held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of Rev. J. J. Jones, 1001 Queen street. Rev. J. J. Jones of Trinity M. E. Church conducted the service and the interment was made in the Mt. Hope Protestant cemetery.

Mr. Walter T. Varney of Del Ray will be orator of the day at a tournament and picnic to be given at Stoneburner Park, near Arlington, in Alexandria county, tomorrow. Mr. Frank Hume of Alexandria county will deliver an address in the evening. Telling will commence at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and the coronation will take place at 9 p.m.

A decree has been entered in the corporation court in the case of Julia B. E. against Mandy T. Rust appointing Leonard Marbury guardian ad litem of infant defendants and the case was referred to Commissioner Callan for report.

Killed by the Cars.
A message was received here about noon today from Relay station, on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, about nine miles from Baltimore, giving information of the killing of a man by a car. The deceased was about twenty years old. He was killed by the train that left here at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

According to the information received here the victim of the accident was deaf and dumb. On a party from the body was written "Col. H. C. Harrison, Washington, D. C." The paper also contained a statement that Harrison was going to attend school in this city. The deceased was a dark skinned, curly haired and lace shoes. Where the man lived is not known. The police are trying to locate his friends.

Lot Bought by Thomas Nelson Page.

By deed placed on record today William Pitt Kellogg and Mary E. Kellogg, his wife, transferred to Thomas Nelson Page lot 28, in square 330, bounded by K and L, 5th and 6th streets, north side. The consideration, according to the revenue stamps attached to the deed, was $1,000.

For Tired Brain

Horstford's Acid Phosphate

Rests and invigorates the tired and confused brain, dispels the nervous headache and induces refreshing sleep.

Gives good appetite, perfect digestion and a clear brain.

A Tonic and Nerve Food.

The genuine bears the name "Horstford's" on label.

BUILDING OPERATIONS.

Report of District Inspector for Building.

John B. Brady, the inspector of buildings, has submitted to the District Commissioners a report of the building operations in the District of Columbia during the month of June. As predicted in The Star the latter part of the month, the operations amounted to more than $1,500,000. Permits were issued for apartment houses to the amount of $750,000. Of the total amount of improvement the permits for new buildings amounted to $1,413,584, while permits for repairs and alterations were issued to the extent of $124,850. Inspector Brady's report shows that during the month permits were issued for the number and character of buildings as follows:

	Number.	Cost.
Brick dwellings.....	96	$327,950
Frame dwellings.....	19	$7,620
Brick repairs.....	33	$117,400
Frame repairs.....	25	$5,840
Apartment houses.....	20	$79,500
Store and dwelling.....	3	12,500
Store.....	1	10,000
Engine and boiler.....	2	50,500
Hotel.....	1	15,000
Hall (brick).....	1	18,000
Church (frame).....	1	3,000
Factory (brick).....	1	14,000
Office.....	1	17,000
Workshop (frame).....	1	250
Stable (brick).....	7	6,204
Stable (frame).....	3	600
Sheds (frame).....	43	1,592
Total.....	359	$1,538,434

The following summary will show the distribution of improvement in the different sections of the District and the value of the same:

Buildings, northwest, $95,000; buildings, east, $20,220; buildings, northeast, $27,000; buildings, southwest, $21,500; buildings, southeast, $10,000; total, $143,884. Repairs, northwest, $104,454; repairs, east, $9,531; repairs, northeast, $1,419; repairs, southwest, $5,822; repairs, southeast, $2,804; total repairs, $124,850.

KENSINGTON ASSOCIATION.

President Eckhardt Resigns and Is Succeeded by Arthur Hendricks.

Special Correspondence of The Evening Star.

KENSINGTON, Md., July 2, 1901.
A well-attended meeting of the citizens' association was held this evening in the Noyes Library. The resignation of Mr. Cornelius Eckhardt, president of the association, was received with regrets, and Col. John Brady was appointed temporary chairman. Mr. L. W. Maxson, chairman of the committee on street lighting, reported having conferred with a number of gentlemen in villages who are active in the use of some reports being favorable and others the reverse. The committee asked for more time to investigate the matter. Mr. Maxson also reported that the price of family tickets on the B. and O. railroad had been reduced to $8.35 between this point and Washington, being but a slight advance over the former price. This action was due, it was said, to the efforts of Mr. Cassidy of the National Park Sanctuary.

Mr. Terrell of the committee on schools told of a visit of two members of the county school board to Kensington during the past week. The grounds and plans for the proposed school building had been thoroughly gone over, and the county had agreed to give as much money for the erection of a new building as could be raised by the citizens of Kensington by the sale of the present building and otherwise, the sum not to exceed $1,000 altogether. If the amount necessary to be raised by the Kensington people can be obtained, the building will be begun at once, it was stated, as to be finished in time for the opening of the fall term, September 9.

The committee in charge of the railroad matters was requested to present its complaint as to the management of the electric road at once in order that it might be brought up at the time of the appointment of a receiver, which will occur at an early date. The placing of gates at the railroad crossing at this place has been promised for some time, and the committee will confer with the officials in regard to the same. Arthur Hendricks was nominated for officer of president and he was unanimously elected.

A called meeting of the Women's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Cunningham to elect a president, Mrs. E. J. Hartshorn having declined a re-election. Mrs. Cunningham was elected president and Mrs. Sarah North vice president. Fifty new books have been placed in the Noyes library during the past week, as the result of the "paper sale" at the lawn party. It is expected that other books will be purchased during the summer.

ROCKVILLE AND VICINITY.

General and Personal Items From Montgomery County's Capital.

Special Correspondence of The Evening Star.

ROCKVILLE, Md., July 2, 1901.
Mr. Higgins, one of the most widely-known citizens of this county, died at an early hour this morning at his home near Oakdale, aged seventy-seven years. Several years ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis, which left him in an enfeebled condition, and about a week ago he was again stricken and failed to rally. His wife and two children—a son and a daughter—survive him.

Mr. Higgins was for many years active in democratic politics, and held a number of offices, among them being that of clerk of the county for one term. He also served as constable and justice of the peace. He placed Thursday afternoon from the late home of deceased.

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas H. Campbell and little son, who were in Rockville, Va., to spend two weeks. They will arrive at the Rockville station tomorrow morning. The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon from the late home of deceased.

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas H. Campbell and little son, who were in Rockville, Va., to spend two weeks. They will arrive at the Rockville station tomorrow morning. The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon from the late home of deceased.

It is understood that Mr. John H. Bagley, residing near this town, will be a candidate for the democratic nomination for the house of delegates. He was for a number of years county commissioner for this collection district.

The funeral of Mr. Daniel W. Brown, who died very suddenly of heart failure Friday morning at his home near Wheaton, took place yesterday morning from St. John's Catholic Church at Forest Glen. The services were conducted by Rev. Charles O. Rosensted, pastor of the church, and assisted by Rev. James Mackin, pastor of St. Paul's Church, Washington. The interment was in St. John's cemetery. The deceased was a brother of Michael and Thos. Brown of this county, and was fifty-six years of age. He was never married.

The Enterprise Company, a company of Montgomery county contemplates establishing in Rockville and Laurel telephone exchange, equipped with long distance instruments and metallic circuit. The offices, if established, will be connected with the general exchange system of the Enterprise Telephone Company, which has branches in Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company in Washington, and through the Washington exchange, with the long distance lines of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The farmers of the county are seriously handicapped in harvesting by the effect of the intense hot weather on the horses. A large number of animals in all sections of the county have died from the effects of the heat, and many farmers have had to take their animals from the fields. A number of the farmers in the upper section of the county have reported the deaths of their animals at night, and they pronounce it a success.

BEAUTIFUL VIEWS.

Magnificence of the Scenery Near Harper's Ferry.

Correspondence of The Evening Star.

After spending a few days here in the embrace of nature the thought impresses me that the people of Washington do not appreciate this nearby mountain resort according to its true value. The romantic valleys of the Potomac and Shenandoah afford innumerable views of rare magnificence, and the air is invigorating to mind and body.

On Saturday evening I beheld here a scene that I shall never forget and shall consider myself fortunate if I ever see its equal. The Master Painter found in the western sky just enough of the floating remnants of the day's thunder storm on which to properly display His exquisite strokes, so had promised the earth an evening spectacle of extraordinary splendor. The scene was a masterpiece. For half an hour the union of landscape and sky produced the most gorgeous scene I have ever witnessed, very far surpassing the best I had seen even on the terrace ## of the Capitol. It was a vision of nature in her happiest mood and her finest array.

The landscapes here have evidently been arranged for scenic effect. The river, modestly, though with many a murmur, confine themselves to the troughs of the valleys; the hills assume a prouder position, but stand aside with politeness and reverence, dignity while the waters are passing; and their royal highnesses, the mountains, standing somewhat aloof, add their august presence and repeat the shrill notes of the passing locomotive, while receiving the soft caresses of the floating clouds. The moon, of course, performs her part with an overlooking things which other chaplains might improve.

WEEKLY MORTALITY REPORT.

One Hundred and Twenty Deaths From Various Causes.

There were 120 deaths in the District during the week ended on Saturday last, constituting a death rate of 22.30 per thousand of the total population. In the preceding week they numbered 100, with a death rate of 18.05, and in the corresponding week of last year 135, death rate 23.82.

Of the decedents 62 were white and 58 colored. Compared with the last report, deaths from diseases of the brain and nervous system increased from 12 to 20, and from acute diarrheal diseases from 12 to 20. From consumption the mortality decreased from 16 to 11, and affections of the kidneys from 9 to 5. Deaths of children under five years of age were 51, compared with 39 in the previous week, and of those under one year of age there were 41, as against 29 in the previous week. Of diphtheria there was 1 fatal case and 4 of typhoid fever.

The deaths from violence numbered 3, all accidental, being by strangulation by food, 4 by drowning and 1 by being crushed under a falling pile of lumber.

At the close of last report there were 16 cases of diphtheria in quarantine. During the week 5 new cases occurred and 4 were discharged, leaving 16 cases under observation in 16 premises.

Of scarlet fever there were 25 cases in quarantine at the close of last report. During the week 4 new cases were reported and 4 were discharged, leaving 25 cases with warning cards in 16 premises.

TO SERVE SENTENCES.

Prisoners to Be Taken to the Moundsville Penitentiary.

The following recently sentenced in the local criminal courts will be taken to the penitentiary at Moundsville, W. Va., tonight, departing from the Baltimore and Ohio passenger station at 8 o'clock:

Ada Cross, alias Ada Gray, grand larceny, three years; Norman Hoyle, housebreaking, two cases, seven years; Joseph Deal, second offense, petty larceny, one year and one day; Joseph Chisell, housebreaking, ten years; William H. Richardson, housebreaking, ten years; Robert Quilt, second offense, petty larceny, three years; William Vincent, larceny from the person, one year and one day; Joseph Tilley, larceny from the person, one year and one day; Larney Williams, larceny from the person, three years; Albert Johnson, assault with intent to kill, six years; Theodore Handy, grand larceny, two years; Frank Dorsey, housebreaking, six years; Thomas Brown, housebreaking, six years.

THE OLD NORTH STATE.

Association Formed of North Carolina Residents of Washington.

A meeting of the North Carolina Relief Association was held last night at the National Hotel, and after the disposition of business pertaining to the needs of the recent food sufferers it was decided to organize what will be known as the "Old North State Club." It is estimated that at least 1,000 natives of North Carolina reside in Washington, and many of them have signed their intention of joining the organization. Judge J. C. L. Gudge, Mr. A. Brown and Mr. James H. Smith were appointed a committee on state colors, and to determine on a badge and outline a detailed plan of organization. The constitution and report will be submitted by this committee at a meeting of the association, to be held in the fall. Another meeting of the association will be held next Thursday evening.

MAKES A RECORD.

Washington Boy's Success in Government Service in Cuba.

Mr. Leonard H. Mattingly, a former well-known Washington High School boy and officer of the District of Columbia National Guard, will reach Washington this evening from Havana, Cuba, for a vacation of a month, after having attained marked success in the government service on the island. Mr. Mattingly, who is only a little more than a year ago to accept a subordinate position in Havana. He is now chief clerk of the office of the auditor for the island of Cuba, his salary having recently been increased, by direction of Governor General Wood, to $3,000 per annum.

Recommending the promotion, Auditor Terrill, among other things, said: "Mr. Mattingly is a graduate of law, and assists in the preparation of the annual report of the auditor. He is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant or deputy. Mr. Mattingly is undoubtedly a man of high character of initiative, making him especially valuable in devising new methods of simplifying and expediting the work of the office, as well as in the general supervision and putting them in condition to be available for data for future reports. He is painstaking, hard working, responding cheerfully to every call, and is a man of high character and of high ability, and in the general supervision of the mail and record division, and generally outlines and writes the report of the auditor. He returns division, both of which he organizes. In fact, his position is really that of an assistant